The Bulkley Valley is the traditional territory of the Wet’suwet’en, who have lived here for countless generations. Their rich culture is seen and heard throughout the valley, the land that they have known and loved longer than memory can recount.

When the first Europeans arrived in the mid-1800s, they did so in order to satisfy Europe’s appetite for fur. Trappers and traders first arrived by trekking overland and using the area’s river systems to access what they believed to be the untapped fur resources of the new colony of British Columbia. Soon after, construction of the Collins Overland Telegraph line brought workers and surveyors into the area and non-aboriginal settlement began. Intended to connect North America to Europe via the Bering Strait, construction of the line was abandoned in 1866 when others racing to complete the trans-Atlantic cable succeeded first and made any need for this telegraph line obsolete.

Today, we come across abandoned mine shafts, hiking trails that were once mining roads, and ghost town sites that tell stories of this later Euro-Canadian exploration and settlement, led by Hudson’s Bay Company traders, government land surveyors, Yukon telegraph construction workers, and those headed north to the gold fields of the Klondike.

The story of the town of Smithers begins in 1913 with the coming of the railroad. The federal government in Ottawa was eager to extend its trade and transportation routes across the continent, and plans were well underway for a railway that would extend from Manitoba in the east to the current city of Prince Rupert on the west coast. In 1913, after two unsuccessful attempts to establish its divisional point between Prince George and Prince Rupert, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway (GTPR) turned its attention to the unassuming bit of swampy land below the towering Hudson Bay Mountain. Named for the highest official of the GTPR, Sir Alfred Smithers, the town immediately began to grow. “A new building is erected every day in Smithers!” boasted one promotional advertisement. Heritage buildings such as the train station, constructed in 1918, and the Central Park Building, constructed in 1925 as the provincial government office, speak to Smithers’ role as a regional centre and its place within the rail history of British Columbia.

The rail line continued, and continues today, to serve as an important transportation corridor for Smithers’ mining, agriculture, forestry and tourism economies.

The BV Museum’s Culture Crawl, a self-guided walking tour, will lead you through the streets of Smithers to some of our historic buildings and landmarks.

BEST BACKCOUNTRY WILDERNESS ADVENTURE

BC’s Best Mountain Towns list, Hello BC

“...Alpine-style Smithers is where you go to get away from it all, get into outdoor adventure, and see wildlife—namely, moose, mountain goats and bears. In northwestern BC on the Yellowhead Highway, it’s tucked into a scenic valley next to towering Hudson Bay Mountain. This northern community, a former railway hub, is authentic, fun-loving, and rough around the edges. Enviro-minded ‘Smithereens’ adore their festivals and fishing (steelhead), hiking and skiing. There’s a surprising amount of cultural activity, too: Jazz and folk music showcases, free outdoor concerts, yoga in the park, field-to-table feasts, theatre and quality restaurants. Take up residence in a rustic cabin and plan your hike/ski/canoe/horseback ride...also a primo spot to see the Northern Lights, and hunt and fish in fall.”

BEST MAIN STREET,
Great Places In Canada People’s Choice award winner

“...With its many local shops and public spaces, Main Street represents the best of the little mountain community of the Town of Smithers; it’s where people come together as ‘Smithereens’ in all their vibrancy and diversity.”

#11 HAPPIEST PLACE IN CANADA
Expedia

“...This northern interior town embodies pretty much everything people love about British Columbia: it’s got amazing landscapes, thrilling winter sports, and laid-back cafés. For the landscapes, make the trek to Twin Falls Recreation Site; for thrills, hit the slopes at Hudson Bay Mountain. And for après-ski caffeine, cozy Two Sisters Café has your perfect beverage, from pumpkin spice lattes to locally roasted coffee.”

TOP 7 PICK TO MAKE THE MOST OUT OF WINTER
Georgia Straight Magazine

“...surrounded by mountains, including the Hudson Bay Mountain Resort, which has four lifts and is just 20 minutes away. Hudson Bay Mountain is also home to the Bulkley Valley Nordic Centre, which has it all: a day lodge, waxing huts, and lit skiing at night. Winter adventurers can also enjoy a breathtaking below-the-treeline experience at the Hankin-Evelyn Backcountry Skiing Recreation Area. For those more interested in cross-country skiing, there are the Canyon Creek Trails and the Bulkley River Recreation Site. Go big. Go north.”

WHAT DEFINES SMITHERS THESE DAYS...?

Mountains, rivers, forests and lakes... wild spaces to roam and breathe...and a vibrant and playful community. Spend some time in Smithers and you may find yourself engaging with a local—a Smithereen. They are passionate about their community! When they aren’t paddling, pedaling or skiing through their landscape, they work in forestry, mining, and on the railroad; they run farms and service businesses. They live just far enough away from any metropolis that they are somewhat self-reliant. Many heat their homes with wood and chop it themselves. They have chainsaws, tractors, horses and trucks. Lawyers, doctors, scientists and school teachers might spend their week in an office but on Saturday they’re likely hiking or harvesting hayfields. Smithereens are resourceful and entrepreneurial because they need to be. And they are neighbourly because it’s in their blood. This town is small enough that people feel a sense of ownership in the place they call home. They love where they live and love to share it with you.
This land of the Wet’suwet’en stretches from Tweedsmuir Provincial Park in the south to Babine Lake in the north, to Fraser Lake in the east and to Hazelton in the west. Wet’suwet’en people inhabited this area when European settlers first arrived in the late 1800s and they live here still. The largest Wet’suwet’en community today is Witset (Moricetown) on the Widzin Kwah (Bulkley River). The village is situated on the banks of the river where it narrows to a spectacular gorge known as Widzin Kwah Canyon. Migrating salmon stop to rest in the calm waters downstream of the canyon and that abundance of salmon is what makes this an important fishing spot both historically and today.

1 WIDZIN KWAH (MORICETOWN) CANYON

This is a must-see! The rush of the river as it squeezes through the gorge is mesmerizing. It can be heart-stopping to watch the Wet’suwet’en fishers out on the rocks, close to the exploding whitewater, plunging poles into the water to catch powerful salmon in dip nets. The river here can be loaded with salmon (springs or kings, coho, sockeye, pinks) and steelhead swimming upriver to spawning grounds on the Bulkley and Morice Rivers and their tributaries. Watch from above or walk the paths into the canyon. Be careful as you near the river—the rocks are slippery.

2 FISHING AT IDIOT ROCK

If you want to try your hand at fishing in Witset, your best bet is “Idiot Rock” just downstream of the canyon. You will need a valid BC angling licence which you can buy online or at fishing shops in Smithers.

3 WIDZIN KWAH CANYON HOUSE MUSEUM

Widzin Kwah Diyik Be Yikh (Widzin Kwah Canyon House Museum) is directly above the canyon, featuring historical displays of traditional life and fishing methods, cultural artifacts, local arts and crafts and a gift shop with books and souvenirs. There is a fully serviced campground and RV Park here as well. Open May to October. For more info, call 250-877-5080 or visit www.witset.ca/camping

Trained cultural tour guides can help deepen your appreciation of the Wet’suwet’en way of life. To book your Cultural Tour call 250-877-5080 or visit www.witset.ca/camping

5 WET’SUWET’EN ARTWORK AROUND DOWNTOWN

A glimpse of Wet’suwet’en art can be seen around Smithers at the local Wet’suwet’en government office on First Avenue, as well as at BOVILL SQUARE on Main Street, and in the spectacular totem pole at the Coast Mountain College campus on 2nd Avenue.

One of the greatest aspects of hiking around Smithers is the close proximity to town of so many trails. Many hikes start only a 15-minute drive from downtown. In addition, hikers will feel as if they have the mountains to themselves, even during peak hiking season in late summer, because of the massive scope of pristine nature in the area and the small population. The BULKLEY VALLEY BACKPACKERS website has a schedule of weekly guided hikes and several great maps for hiking in the area, easily loaded onto phones. visit bvbackpackers.ca

1 PERIMETER TRAIL
A scenic 13-kilometre walking trail weaves through and around the town, follows the shores of the BULKLEY RIVER, CHICKEN CREEK and KATHLYN CREEK, in and out of wooded areas with gravel, earthy (sometimes paved) footpaths. Walkers, bikers, dog walkers and joggers use the trail in the summer, while cross-country skiers and snowshoers enjoy it in the winter. Viewing benches along the path offer scenic highlights. Bathroom facilities and picnic tables can be found at RIVERSIDE PARK.

2 COMMUNITY FOREST TRAILS
Just a 10 min. drive from downtown Smithers, perched in a sheltered spruce and pine forest, is a 45 km trail network – great for hiking, biking, and nature study. Specifically, there is a marked route to and around GOLDENEYE LAKE called the Nature Trail. In winter, the BULKLEY VALLEY NORDIC SKI CLUB grooms and maintains the trails for both classic and skate skiing. The trails are well marked and range from fairly flat with a few gentle slopes to challenging routes with steep climbs and hairpin turns. Fees apply to winter use of the trails.

3 TWIN FALLS RECREATION SITE & GLACIER GULCH RECREATION TRAIL
Twin Falls/Glacier Gulch, just 15 min. from downtown, is blessed with two glistening waterfalls cascading 550 feet down its rocky face. The receding KATHLYN GLACIER hangs 5,000 feet above. There are some picnic tables here where you can rest and enjoy the surroundings. Take a short walk to a viewing platform. Enjoy the breathtaking view of the spectacular TWIN FALLS. This is a Provincial Recreation Site, mostly a day-use spot, but equipped with outhouses and tent camping areas as well. There is access and parking for RVs and other vehicles.

Bears may be in these areas so be aware and keep dogs on leash.

WALKS and HIKES

MOUNTAIN GOATS
Smithers is in the heart of mountain goat country and home to the BC MOUNTAIN GOAT SOCIETY. If you are in the local mountains from JUNE TO OCTOBER, chances are high you will spot some of these rugged animals as they traverse near-vertical cliffs in their life on the slopes. Mountain goats can be alone or in groups of two to 30. If you spot a large group, it will be a nanny herd composed of mature females and younger goats. The herd may be slowly moving from one patch of feed to the next or may be bedded down to chew their cuds. Mountain goats stay close to sheer cliffs so that they can escape from predators such as bears and wolves. Stop by the VISITOR CENTRE for a brochure about other locally accessible viewing opportunities.
Hudson Bay Mountain & Crater Lake

The Hudson Bay Mountain ski area provides easy access to the alpine for hiking and great views. The trail begins just beyond the Prairie T-bar and meanders past various cabins—then you are quickly above timberline. The trail is steep at first but quickly levels out. The Prairie is home to a flood of wildflowers in early summer. Watch for willow ptarmigan and marmots. This is an exciting afternoon adventure to the snow-fed Crater Lake.

Silver Lakes Trail

This is a full-day hike on the back side of Hudson Bay Mountain to the Silver Lakes basin. You can enjoy great views of the lakes and meadows full of alpine flowers in summer. To get to the lakes, you will gain about 2000 ft of elevation. Midway, the trail crosses red valley, named for the stunning red-purple colour of the rock on the slopes and in the creekbed.

Hankin-Evelyn Backcountry Recreation Area

Hike a short, steep, marked trail through mature forest to an old fire lookout for fantastic panoramic views of rugged peaks and mountain ranges in the area. The day-use lookout cabin has been upgraded and maintained by local hiking and backcountry ski groups along with help from the provincial government, and there is a fee for overnight stays. Once you reach the lookout, you can carry on to the Mt. Hankin Summit. The area gets lots of use in winter by snowshoers and backcountry skiers.

Fossil Beds & Driftwood Canyon Provincial Park

Driftwood Canyon is recognized as one of the world’s most significant fossil beds. It provides park users with a fascinating opportunity to understand the area’s evolutionary processes of both geology and biology. The fossils found in Driftwood Canyon are 50 million years old. The area had a subtropical to tropical climate and was made up of fresh-water swamps and lakes. These fossils were created as the organisms were trapped within the sediment layers. Visitors may handle and view fossils but are asked to not take them away. There is a parking lot adjacent to Driftwood Creek with a few picnic tables and a small footbridge. Walk across the footbridge and a further 300 metres to the viewing platform to reach the middle of the Fossil Bed! Located 15 mins from downtown Smithers.

Babine Mountains Provincial Park

This wilderness area offers some of the finest hiking opportunities in west-central BC. Hikes range in difficulty and duration, and mapped trails include Lyon Creek, Harvey Mountain, McCabe, Silver King Basin, Fletcher-Gardner, Onion Mountain, Little Joe Creek, Cronin Creek, Higgins Creek and Hyland Pass. There is no campground, however, camping is allowed in the park and the Joe l’Orsa Cabin—located in Silverking Basin—offers accommodation to hikers in the park for a nominal fee (payable at the BC Parks Office). Snowmobiling, mountain biking, skiing and snowshoeing are also possible in the park, with some limitations.
1 ROAD BIKE CYCLING (PAVED ROADS)

If you are looking for paved roads off the highway, try a loop around TYHEE LAKE, or ride from downtown around LAKE KATHLYN and back. If you’re “up” for some epic uphill pedaling, ride up BABINE LAKE ROAD towards MCKENDRICK PASS and get ready to scream back down the huge hill when you turn around.

2 CROSS BIKE CYCLING (PAVED/DIRT ROADS)

If your tires can handle a bit of dirt and gravel, you can ride from downtown along the PERIMETER TRAIL, or head out on TATLOW ROAD towards Telkwa and cross the Railway Bridge once you get there (then go for an ice cream cone!). Alternatively, head up OLD BABINE LAKE ROAD into the DRIFTWOOD area and it will eventually become a hard-packed dirt road leading towards the BABINE MOUNTAINS or head up towards the DRIFTWOOD FOSSIL BEDS. Choose to head left or right once you reach the TELKWA HIGH ROAD — create your own loop.

3 MOUNTAIN BIKING

This is prime mountain-biking country! The SMITHERS MOUNTAIN BIKE ASSOCIATION manages trail networks on Hudson Bay Mountain suitable for all abilities: the BLUFF RECREATION SITE has several access points, including one downtown. This will take you into the BOARDWALK TRAILS, aptly named with hundreds of metres of boardwalks. There’s more to be had on the Piper Down Recreation Trails and Ptarmigan Trails. Across the valley, the BABINE MOUNTAINS PROVINCIAL PARK has trails in simply spectacular settings. SILVER KING BASIN is home to the JOE L’ORSÀ CABIN where you can enjoy a short break or overnight stay. For the adventurous, ride the CRONIN PASS and enjoy the views from the top of the world.

4 HORSE TRIPS

Well-trained horses can carry you to the hills around the Bulkley Valley for breathtaking panoramas. Trips are available in the BABINE MOUNTAIN PROVINCIAL PARK and in SPATSIZ WILDERNESS PARK. Also available— multi-day pack train trips, sleigh rides, wagon rides and horse camps to develop or improve your riding skills.

Known locally as “the Fossil Beds”, Driftwood Canyon is the site of the world’s earliest known salmonid fossil—eosalmo driftwoodensis. Since the Bulkley River is one of the world’s great steelhead rivers, it cannot be a coincidence that salmonids got their start in this valley. The fossils at Driftwood Canyon are up to 50 million years old and include plants, insects, fish, birds and rodents. The land that makes up the park was donated by long-time Bulkley Valley resident Gordon Harvey. The fossil beds are under the management of BC Parks and visitors are welcome to use this lovely day-use park. There are picnic tables beside Driftwood Creek. The trail to the fossil beds is wheelchair accessible. Enjoy the park and the interpretive material, but please do not collect fossils.

The vibrant, picturesque, historic village of Telkwa is nestled on the banks of the Bulkley and Telkwa rivers, just 12 kilometres east of Smithers. Telkwa is a growing family-oriented community with a gorgeous rural setting and easy access to surrounding outdoor recreation. In 1906, the valley’s first European settlers put down stakes at a place that was referred to as “Where the Rivers Meet”. The first townsite in the area, Aldermere, was established on the bluff above the Bulkley River on the Yukon Telegraph Trail. Aldermere was a central restocking spot for prospectors following the call of the Gold Rush. As the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway began constructing the western section of its railway in 1907, many businesses and settlers began to move down the hill to the present site of Telkwa to be closer to the anticipated railway and an easier water supply. Today, over 100 years later, the community of Telkwa is home to 1,500 residents.

1 WALK & SKI
An extensive walking and cross-country ski trail system surrounds Telkwa and the original townsite of Aldermere.

2 HISTORIC WALKING TOUR
Many of Telkwa’s historic buildings, including the restored 1910 St. Stephen’s Anglican Church, remain as testaments to the past and can be seen with a self-guided walking tour. Pick up a WALKING-TOUR BROCHURE when you stop in at the TELKWA MUSEUM, or go to the VILLAGE OFFICE.

3 RIVERFRONT ACTIVITIES
Enjoy the beautiful riverfront walks and numerous trails, sample the delicious food from mobile vendors and ice cream shop, watch local fishermen try their luck on the riverbank, keep your eye out for wildlife and check out the adventurous as they float down river—or try it yourself (ask about local river conditions, how and where to pull out).

4 TYHEE LAKE
Go for a swim, paddle or boat ride in this beautiful lake easily accessed at the PROVINCIAL CAMPSITE with kid-friendly beaches.

5 MUSIC IN THE PARK
Music in the Park is a series of summer concerts held at EDDY PARK in Telkwa once a month from June through September. Typically on a Thursday evening at 6 pm, local musicians are highlighted and provide fabulous entertainment for young and old. Bring a blanket or chair and enjoy.

6 TELKWA BBQ & DEMOLITION DERBY
The annual Labour Day weekend-long event usually includes a ball tournament, beef barbecue, demolition derby, and horseshoe tournament. Great entertainment for the whole family hosted by the Bulkley Valley Kinsmen.

CENTRALLY LOCATED IN DOWNTOWN SMITHERS
FISHING

From lake trout to salmon and steelhead, Smithers welcomes anglers from around the world. Hundreds of lakes and hundreds of miles of river await your cast. We have world-class guides to make your trip memorable, and we have knowledgeable staff in our fishing shops to help answer your questions and ensure you have the proper gear.

If you are fishing on your own, make sure to have a current fishing licence and a current copy of the Sport Fishing Regulations Synopsis. Inquire about fishing info at the Smithers Visitor Centre or the sports stores. More info can also be found at steelheadparadise.com

1 LAKE FISHING

CHAPMAN LAKE is a medium-sized lake, 37.5 km from Smithers, with boat launch and camping. Rainbow, cutthroat and char (lake trout) are readily available.

In the same direction and further east is BABINE LAKE—the largest lake in this area. It is the longest natural lake in BC, nearly 180 km (110 miles) from end to end. You’ll need a boat to explore Babine Lake and to fish for its rainbows, cutthroat and char.

ALDRICH, DENNIS, & MCDONELL LAKES are at the back side of Hudson Bay Mountain, southwest of Smithers. These three beautiful lakes form a chain of water in which you can catch dolly varden and cutthroat trout. DENNIS LAKE offers 4 tenting sites with a boat launch & dock and great views of HUDSON BAY MOUNTAIN.

2 RIVER FISHING: STEELHEAD

When it comes to angling, the Bulkley Valley is famous for the thrill of catch-and-release wild steelhead fishing. Our steelhead rivers—the BULKLEY, MORICE, KISPIOX, BABINE, SUSKWA, SUSTUT, SKEENA— have given this place the nickname of STEELHEAD PARADISE. Anglers come from all over the world to fish here. The steelhead of the Skeena River system are some of the largest in the world. The steelhead is an anadromous fish—born in the wild river, it makes its way to the ocean and returns years later to its home waters to spawn. What sets the steelhead apart from other anadromous fish is its ability to repeat the process. While salmon make this remarkable journey just once, spawning and then dying in the river they came home to, steelhead can make the journey several times. They are truly one of nature’s miracles.

3 RIVER FISHING: SALMON

In addition to steelhead, all five species of Pacific salmon inhabit our waters. The BULKLEY RIVER flows by Smithers and is home to spring salmon (also known as king or chinook) along with coho (silver), sockeye and pink salmon. Check the FRESHWATER FISHING REGULATIONS for information on when you can fish for salmon.

4 RIVER FISHING AT RAINBOW ALLEY

Rainbow Alley is pretty much what it sounds like. This section of river between BABINE and NILKITKWA LAKES, north of Smithers, is only about 1.5 km (1 mile) long—but is a significant thoroughfare for fish, including rainbow trout, burbot, char, steelhead, sockeye, coho and pink. It is famous, though, for its large rainbows—trout, that is. BC PARKS manages the area and fishing restrictions apply.

1 DOWNHILL SKIING & BOARDING
HUDDSON BAY MOUNTAIN RESORT 20 mins from downtown, has T-bars, a triple-seat chairlift and more runs than you can ski in a day, from beginner to expert. The ski hill feels like a step back in time in the best of ways with its short line-ups and unpopulated runs—you’ll have plenty of opportunities to make fresh tracks after one of the legendary snowfalls. The ski hill offers instruction, a snowboard terrain park, a fireside lounge and two cafeterias—plus great events all season long. For assisted downhill in the open bowls and gladed trees of the wilderness, try SKEENA CAT SKIING (with basecamp), just 35 mins from Smithers or SKEENA HELI-SKIING which operates out of the BEAR CLAW LODGE just 1.5 hours from Smithers.

2 BACKCOUNTRY TOURING
The HANKIN-EVELYN BACKCOUNTRY RECREATION AREA offers below-treeline skiing and access roads that are maintained throughout the winter. This non-motorized ski touring terrain has low-elevation snow-shoeing and cross-country loops, beginner, intermediate and expert tree runs, and high alpine bowls. BEAR MOUNTAINEERING & BURNIE GLACIER CHALET offer self-guided or guided backcountry adventures as well as courses, and HYLAND BACKCOUNTRY SERVICES offers guided trips and courses. 3 SNOWSHOEING
Check out the trails in BABINE MOUNTAINS PROVINCIAL PARK. You can make a great overnight trip up the SILVER KING BASIN TRAIL to the JOE L’ORSA CABIN. On HUDSON BAY MOUNTAIN, a snowshoe to “The Prairie” is popular and easily accessible. You can also try CANYON CREEK TRAILS. visit www.bcnorth.ca/canyoncreek or the BULKLEY RIVER RECREATION SITE www.sitesandtrailsbc.ca.

4 NORDIC SKIING

Trail user fees smitherssnowmobileassociation.com.

6 SKATING & ICE HOCKEY
Have some fun skating outside at the OUTDOOR RINKS in Smithers near Central Park (by the Visitor Centre) and in Telkwa near the Village Office. You can also SKATE INDOORS at the SMITHERS CIVIC CENTRE and occasionally on LOCAL LAKES when conditions are right.

7 WINTER SLEIGH RIDES
Enjoy the magic of a horse-drawn sleigh ride through the snow. There are at least two farms in the valley offering winter sleigh rides, including B & T WAGON AND SLEIGH RIDES. Take a 1 or 2 hour sleigh ride that includes a stop along the trail to enjoy a good, old-fashioned campfire.

What's a MOUNTAIN TOWN?

Is it enough to just be near or underneath a mountain? Or does a town that deserves this name have to actually reach out into those high places? Does a mountain town need a ski resort? Does it need rock climbing? Is it enough to have a glacier hanging above it?

Most of all, a mountain town needs guides—women and men who have gone through years of rigorous professional training. People who have been around not only their local peaks, but the big ones in other ranges too. Guides who know the trails, where the crevasses are, and where the skiing is great right now. Guides who know where visitors can go, each one according to his or her very own abilities. Guides who bring their guests back home at the end of a trip, whether it's a one-day hike to a broad summit or a weeks-long expedition to jagged giant peaks from which enormous glaciers flow. If that is so, Smithers is now a mountain town. It boasts three mountain guides certified to the exacting standards of the International Federation of Mountain Guides' Association, two ski guides certified under the stringent training regime of the Association of Canadian Mountain Guides, and several hiking guides who belong to the same association. More than one professional guide per thousand inhabitants—that's not quite Zermatt, but it's certainly in the running.

In addition to its family-friendly ALPINE SKI RESORT, Smithers is the kind of town where guides and their friends and guests flourish. Our region is now home to FIVE HELI-SKI OPERATIONS, ONE CAT-SKIING OUTFIT, ONE BACKCOUNTRY LODGE, SEVERAL PUBLIC CABINS, and some pretty decent infrastructure of roads and trails. We have a unique backcountry ski area. And we have people whose life's work it is to show visitors the thrills and awesomeness of those mountains that to them are not just scenic. It's home.
